Chapter 01: An Overview of Marketing

81. Describe the four marketing management philosophies.

ANSWER: The four marketing management philosophies include the following:

1. A production orientation is a philosophy that focuses on the internal capabilities of the firm rather than on the desires and needs of the marketplace.
2. A sales orientation is based on the belief that people will buy more goods and services if aggressive sales techniques are used and that high sales result in high profits.
3. A marketing orientation is based on the idea that social and economic justification for an organization's existence is the satisfaction of customer needs and wants while meeting organizational objectives.
4. A societal marketing orientation extends the marketing concept. It is based on the idea that an organization exists not only to satisfy customer wants and needs and to meet organizational objectives but also to preserve and enhance individuals' and society's long-term best interests.
