Chapter Discussion Questions

1. What is the number (or designation) of your voting district? Obtain your voting record from the board of elections and describe your citizenship in regard to voting in elections.
2. Identify a health- or healthcare-related problem you have encountered in your community or in practice (e.g., “My patients all have dental problems and have no means of paying for dental care”). Discuss how the diagram of the policy process (Figure 1-2) can help inform how you approach finding a solution to this problem. Reflect on which level of government might address this problem and why. Identify the stakeholder in this issue.
3. Read fact-based (not opinion) books or journalistic articles or listen to podcasts about the changing paradigm in healthcare delivery and payment systems. Suggestions for reading include Undue Burden (2025) by Shefali Luthra, Priced Out (2019) by Uwe Reinhardt, Being Mortal (2014) by Atul Gawande, articles/blog postings in The Atlantic and Health Affairs, and Which Country Has the Best Health Care (2020) by Ezekiel Emanuel.
 - a. List three questions you have after reading this material.
 - b. List three new ideas you have gained.
 - c. Commit to three actions that you will take as a result of being informed by this material.
4. Consider a thesis, graduate project, or dissertation on a specific topic (e.g., clinical problems, healthcare issues). Use the policy process as a framework.
5. Use a search engine to explore a policy related to a health or healthcare topic such as healthcare benefits for undocumented migrants in your state, what do seniors pay out-of-pocket for Medicare benefits, how do you receive social benefits if you have no address? Which government agencies are responsible for developing the policy? For enforcing the policy? How has the policy changed over time? What are the consequences of not complying with the policy? What is needed to change the policy?

6. Identify nurses and healthcare professionals who are elected officials at the local, state, or national level. Follow them on Instagram, X, Doximity, LinkedIn, and/or Facebook to determine how they became policy experts, what their objectives are, and to what extent they use their clinical knowledge in their official capacities. Ask the officials if they tapped into nurses' groups during their campaigns. If so, what did the nurses and HCPs contribute?
7. Watch a health- or healthcare-related hearing in the U.S. House of Representatives or the Senate. These are accessible online at www.congress.gov. The House Energy and Commerce Committee and the Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee are good choices. Discuss three things you learned from the hearing. Was there testimony by nurses or other clinicians? Would nursing/HCP testimony be valuable at this hearing? How are witnesses chosen? What topics could you testify about (think of the patient population you work with)?
8. Discover how to get notifications (and agendas) of upcoming health-related committees in your state government. Who are the chairs of these committees?
